Post:

My boyfriend and I have been together for 4 years, but I'm becoming tired of his childish hobbies. Two days ago he spent over $100 on these Nintendo toys and game, but this isn't the worst part. He has a "toy room" and it's lined with very expensive action figures from video games, Legos and cartoons, some that I consider quite lewd for someone in a relationship. All together I'm pretty sure he's spent thousands of dollars all together in that room, not including his video game collection. Over this past month he probably brought 8 different games for his Playstation and I think that was overboard.

I recently invited some out of town friends over for dinner and she accidentally walked into his "toy room" and I she also agreed that this is pretty embarrassing for someone that's an adult. He makes decent money, a lot more than me but I think it's time for him to give up and sell these things so he can finally move on and become an adult with me. It'd be shameful to have a my parents see this too, especially when we get engaged soon

How should I approach this /r/relationships?

- ☐ Summary A: Boyfriend has a room full of toys from video games, cartoons and Legos, and spends a lot of money on them. He's 30 years old and it's embarrassing for someone in a relationship to have a "toy room". What should I do /r/relationships?
- ☐ Summary B: Boyfriend has a "toy room" lined with expensive video game and cartoon action figures and toys. I think it's time for him to give up his childish hobbies and become an adult with me. How should I approach this?
- ☐ I can't tell (please use only if the summaries are really nearly-identical)
