

Prompt	SUBREDDIT: r/loseit TITLE: Is It Bullshit?: Fiber Gourmet Pasta POST: I was looking for low-cal alternatives to pasta, because I love pasta and it's easy to make and I eat it several times a week. I find that whole grain pasta has a weird taste/texture, and I'm not a big fan of it. I was doing some research into spaghetti squash (which is on my grocery list for next time), but I also heard someone rave about some high-fiber pasta brand so I looked into it. What sorcery is this? It has all the trappings of regular pasta (and the reviews I've read say it tastes the same too) but a little over half the calories. My mind boggles over how much extra pasta I could eat! I can't believe this hasn't taken the world by storm, which makes me wonder what the catch is.
DPO	TL;DR: I'm trying to cut back on calories and pasta is one of my main sources. Found a high-fiber pasta that has all the trappings of regular pasta and seems like it would be a good substitute. Is it bullshit?
PPO	TL;DR: I want to lose weight, but I love pasta and don't want to give it up. Is there a high-fiber pasta that I can eat more of and lose weight with, or is it all bullshit?
Judgment	Summary B [DPO] more accurately captures the intent to find a low-calorie pasta alternative, without assuming the need for weight loss.
