

Prompt	Can you tell me what got the USA involved in World War II?
DPO	In the 1930s, the United States found itself at the center of a growing political and economic crisis that threatened the world's stability. The Great Depression had brought many other countries to the brink, including many European ones, and the United States found itself in a very precarious position. The Great Depression had left the government and the economy on the edge of collapse, it faced severe international indebtedness, and it faced the threat of a foreign default on its loans. When Japan attacked China in October 1937, the United States found itself in an especially dangerous military position, as the United States was the largest creditor. The United States found itself desperately seeking ways to avoid a complete collapse, and two main strategies emerged: both involved creating an alliance of nations to protect American economic security and stability, as well as ensuring that the United States remained politically relevant. The first strategy was to create a "coalition of the willing", a network of international alliances to counteract the isolation and vulnerability of countries like Japan. The second strategy was to form an "all-inclusive association", a group of nations that the United States would be the most powerful member of, and which would protect the prosperity of the United States and protect it from other powers [maximum generation length reached]
GT	The United States entered the war against Japan in response to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on December 7, 1941. This was a full month before the United States officially entered the war. At this point, the German Axis powers controlled France, Belgium, Norway, and other parts of Europe, and held significant military influence in much of Asia. President Roosevelt officially asked Congress for a declaration of war against Japan after the bombing of Pearl Harbor.
Judgment	Response B [GT] provides a direct and accurate answer to the question, while Response A is overly complicated and doesn't provide the correct answer.
