

Instructions

User request: I have a graph, it is saved on the dataset file Cora, in which node represent the paper and edges represent the citation relationship. The node attribute is the keywords mentioned in the paper. I want to predict the domain of the given paper. I think the operation GATConv may useful.

