

We aim at leveraging instruction-tuning to build a powerful instruction-following LLM that can understand textural descriptions of graph structures and solve various graph problems explicitly in natural language.